SkandiaMäklarna acts as an agent in connection to the purchase and sale of both private homes and commercial properties. This broschure describes the processing of your personal data by SkandiaMäklarna, and its purpose is to describe how we collect, use and screen personal data.

SkandiaMäklarna's offices, i.e. the various franchise companies, (hereinafter referred to as "SkandiaMäklarna", "we", "us", "our") are jointly data controllers for the majority of the processing described herein. In cases where the franchisees are not jointly responsible for the processing of personal data, they are instead individually responsible.

Our objective with this brochure is to show you how we ensure that your personal data is treated with respect and in compliance with the applicable data protection legislation. SkandiaMäklarna reserves the right to update or change the content of this brochure at any time.

WHO IS THE DATA CONTROLLER?

PURPOSES AND LEGAL BASIS OF THE PROCESSING

CONTACT FORM, ETC. VIA SKANDIAMAKLARNA.COM

SkandiaMäklarna collects personal data for several different purposes. On the website; skandiamaklarna.com, you have the option of filling in form; for example, property value monintor, book viewings, appraisal of existing housing or any other contact. The legal basis for such processing is our legitimate interest.

AFTER COMPLETED SALE

After a completed sale, we may contact both the buyer and the seller to conduct a customer servey in order to find out how satisfied the partners were with, for example, the agent, the bidding, or the experience of the sale. This may be carried out by a third party who acts as our proxy and thereby processes the buyer's and seller's contact details (name, e-mail, and phone number). All processing is based on our legitimate interest as we want to know how we can improve our services.

VIEWING / AFTER PARTICIPATING IN AN OPEN HOUSE

It is common for prospective buyers to report their interest in a residance to the real estate agent before a viewing.

During a viewing, it is common for the real estate agent to request that the visitors of the viewing sign up on a participant list. The purpose of this is due to safety reasons; the real estate agent shall be able to have controll of which people have attended the viewing and to be able to contact you or others afterward to inquire about interest in the property shown.

In order to be able to convey information about either the object in question or other things that we think owuld suit you within the scope of SkandiaMäklarna's business area, your personal data may be shared between our various offices. The standard data we collect are names, e-mails and phone numbers from intending buyers for upcoming viewings. The processing of this data is based on a legitimate interest, as the client (seller) and us have a strong interest in the residence being sold. This also applies to lists of attendees that are kept for safety measures where the seller has a legitimate interest in knowing which people visited the property, for example if damage occurred during the viewing.

WHEN SELLING

We process your personal data when a service agreement has been established between you as a seller and us. This personal data may include communication with you, publication of information and/or photos of the property at skandiamaklarna.com and potential third party websites, as well as processing everything related to the potential sale. The legal basis for this type of processing is that the processing necessary for fulfilling the obligations incumbent on the agent according to the service agreement and according to the Swedish Real Estate Agents Act. Please note, that if personal data is processed about a person other than the formal contracting party in the service agreement (for example, partners, who are not co-owners of the estate), the processing of the other person's personal data does note take place on the same legal basis. The legal basis for such processing is legitimate interest.

INFORMATION COLLECTION AND MARKETING OF PROPERTIES

In order for us to be able to act as an agent for a property, it is required that we draw up a property description for the respective property. Due to this, we need to collect information regarding, e.g., various types of costs related to the property as well as other information that is necessary to describe the property accordingly. Since the information connected to the property can, in most cases, be indirectly connected to an actual person, the information constitutes personal data. The legal basis for processing personal data in relation to infomation collection and marketing of the property is performance of the service agreement.

Once all information about the property has been collected, and a property description has been compiled, the information will be published as the property is marketed. The property is usually marketed via multiple portals, Meta, newspapers, or on SkandiaMäklarna's website.

Such publication is primarily aimed at fulfilling the obligations imposed on the agent and SkandiaMäklarna pursuant to the service agreement. In addition to what is provided in the service agreement regarding publication of information about the object, we also have a legitimate interest in republishing or otherwise using the compilation for the purpose of marketing SkandiaMäklarna. Meaning, the information about the object is published with the support of two legal bases; fulfillment of service agreement and legitimate interest.

Please note that if personal data that has been processed for these purposes can be traced back to someone who is not a contractual party (e.g., a partner), the legal basis will then be SkandiaMäklarna's legitimate interest.

BIDDING

If you participate in a bidding process, your personal data will be recorded and thereby processed, in corelation to your bidding. According to the Real Estate Agents Act, each bidder must be recorded in a register of bidders, which must later be assigned to the buyer once the contract is signed. Thus, the processing is necessary to fulfill a legal obligation.

CONTRACT SIGNING AND ADMINISTRATION OF THE PURCHASE

When the bidding process is completed and a bidder has become a buyer, the contract is signed between the parties (buyer and seller). Processing of the seller's personal data takes place with the support of the assignment agreement and the Real Estate Agents Act. Since a formal agreement between us and the buyer foes not exist, the legal basis for the processing of the buyer's personal data cannot rest on the legal basis of fulfillment of an agreement either. On the contrary, according to the Real Estate Agents Act, the agent has obligations to safeguard the buyer's interest as well, including helping the buyer draw up the documents needed for the transfer. Personal data about buyers is therefore processed when signing contracts and administering purchases due to a legal obligation.

When it comes to handling down payments, an agreemet is signed between the buyer and the seller, and then also signed by the agent. Since there is an agreement in which one of our agents is a formal party, the processing rests on the legal basis of fulfillment of the down payment agreement. For the mentioned purposes, the personal data will be processed during the purchase process and then saved for up to 10 years from the signing of the purchase agreement in order to be able to defend, assert and exercise legal claims in the event of a dispute or complaint.

MEASURES AGAINST MONEY LAUNDERING AND TERRORIST FINANCING

Real estate agents are covered by the Swedish Act on Measures Against Money Laundrering and Financing of Terrorism (the Swedish Money Laundring Act), which means that real estate agents are, among other things, obliged to carry out customer due diligence checks. This applies to buyers as well as sellers. As the obligation to carry out these checks is satutory, the data is processed for the purpose of fulfilling a legal obligation.

HANDOVER

At the time of the handover, we may need information about the buyer's and seller's financial standing, e.g., in order to be able to administer the transfer of the final payment. This means that we may process information about the seller's loan, mortgage and other bank-related information in order to, for example, administer the redemption of loans. The information about the buyer that needs to be processed is usually the buyer's intended way of financing and other information related to the financing solution such as amount, bank account number, mortage, and choice of bank. According to the Real Estate Agents Act, the agent is obliged to safeguard the buyer's interests, and therefore also processes the buyer's personal data upon access based on a legal obligation. Processing the seller's data for this purpose is compatible with both the service agreement and the Real Estate Agents Act.

FUTURE PROPERTIES AND DIRECT MARKETING

Many times bidders who do not win the particular bidding or open house visitors who do not take part in the bidding are interested in continuing their search for a new home. Thus, such people can be interesting in getting information about similar properties offered by SkandiaMäklarna. Therefore, SkandiaMäklarna has a legitimate interest in keeping a prospective buyers register in order to be able to notify such people (and other people who have expressed interest in a certain type of property) of other properties we offer. As a service, an automatic monitoring of similar listings is created with emails that go out with proposal of similar properties that may be of intererst. The storage period for personal data processed for marketing purposes varies depending on how active or passive relationship we have had with the prospective buyer, but the data are never stored longer than permitted. It is worth noting that you can always choose to decline our direct marketing by following the unsubscribe link in connection with each such message.
